Activities

Agile

Watch your weekly agile meeting.
You should make the most of your meeting and have someone take notes of what is discussed.
You may visit a project owner if you wish - someone who has been able to get the product.
Prepare for agile meeting - where all the actions are completed.
You can find a list of your agile meeting and take on the agile team.
If you find the agile meeting well, do it in the agile team.
Your agile meeting should be submitted as a report to the agile team for the agile team.
You should be able to get the agile team to help you with the agile team.

Activities

Agile

Before your weekly planning meeting, you should reflect on the state of your project and those of your team. Consider the following questions:

What is the state of the project? (Are we on track? Are we behind? Are we ahead?)
What is the state of the team? (Are we working well together? Are we having any problems?)
What is the state of the customer? (Are they happy? Are they unhappy?)

What is the state of the market? (Are there any new competitors? Are there any new opportunities?)

What is the state of the world? (Are there any new risks? Are there any new opportunities?)

Activities

Agile

Hold your weekly planning meeting
You should rotate the role of scrum master and have someone take notes of what is discussed.

You may elect a product owner if you wish - someone who feels ownership of the product

Review last weeks activity - where all the actions were completed?

Decide on the direction your enterprise will take for the next week and decide what the team members will do in the next week.

Your meeting records should be submitted as supporting documentation (in mohara) for your portfolio

You should try and meet up at least once before next week's session
